BIRTH OF SLN TIMES

MRS. RADHA RAMESH
CORRESPONDENT SLN GROUP OF SCHOOLS

Children are abundantly talented and they require constant motivation to showcase and put forward their talent through different mediums. We, at SLN, for a very long time wanted to showcase our students' creations out there to the world, to show what our children are capable of. We believe this is one such way for them to put forward their literary and artistic skills and that's how came about the birth of SLN TIMES, our monthly newsletter where the beautiful thoughts of the children are penned down along with the various events, tidbits etc.

We sincerely hope that this will encourage more children to put forward their thoughts which will change and inspire other young minds and bring about a smile on the faces of the readers.

The pandemic made every school in the world to switch from traditional classrooms to virtual platforms. Teachers were confronted with the need to adapt to online teaching. Adapting to this new teaching plan was initially a harder phase to go through but nevertheless with the support of our management, it was proved that a teacher could do anything to let the learning happen in any circumstance.

SLN provides online education to the students effectively, via zoom, a video conferencing tool. We take classes as we would do it in traditional classrooms. We teachers, tend to keep our students fun and engaged throughout the online sessions. We ask questions during and after the lesson and leave time for the students to answer.

We took next step forward where we introduced Google Classroom to the students, through which online study materials of videos, presentations, audio and PDF files of chapters are being sent. Each teacher manages their own google classroom and every student has access to all of their classes. They are being given home works, assignments and they are constantly assessed by the online test.

We make use of the online whiteboard and graphical board that help virtually emulate the in-person classroom experience shared between teachers and students. We carry out break out room discussions around the topic and encourage students to participate actively.

TEACHING AT SLN

We create educational videos for our students to learn at their own time. We create ppts which make easier for the teachers(us) to deliver and comprehend complex information of the subjects to the students in a simpler and captivating way.

Apart from presentations, teachers are now looking at keeping children engaged both during and after the sessions in many ways. On the spot small quizzes, using mentimeter tool and co-curricular activities are all forms of engagement being experimented.

TEACHING AT SLN

We conduct virtual co-curricular activities programme and the students showcase varied talents like storytelling, singing, speech, puppet, debates and dramas. The virtual cca turned out to be a great experience wherein the students thoroughly enjoyed. It creates a competitive spirit and fun experience in learning.

In conclusion, the teacher believes that online schooling has allowed students to be much more responsible and take ownership of their learning and once both teachers and students become comfortable with the online sessions, any challenge during a crisis can be addressed in the future.

“No”, IS NOT A WRONG WORD

Once a bird named, Kiki was searching for a tree to build nest to lay eggs. In her search, she saw two large trees. She approached the first tree and said, “Will you allow me to build nest in you? The tree refused to give her shelter. Then she went to the second tree and asked for help. It agreed. She made her home and lay her eggs and then the rainy season arrived.

Due to heavy rain, the first tree fell and carried away by the flood. The bird saw this and said, “Look, this is your destiny. You didn’t offer shelter, now God has punished you.” The tree smiled and said, “I knew I’m not going to survive in this rain, that’s why I didn’t permit you.”

Hearing this, the bird regretted and felt sorry. She moved with tears. Now she understood that there would be some reason behind the word, ‘No’.

Moral: We should not always consider someone’s ‘No’ as their arrogance.

“Don’t judge a book by its cover

A 25-years-old man was admiring the nature with excitement through a window in a train. He was so amazed to see the beauty of nature. Suddenly, he wondered and asked his dad, “Ahh! Dad, look! Look at the trees, it’s moving behind, it’s too beautiful, but how?”, his dad smiled. A young couple who was sitting nearby them, looked at him mockingly and whispered at his childish behavior within them.

At once with surprise the boy said to his lovely dad, “Dad, take a look at the clouds, they are running with us!”. The young couple couldn’t resist, and they said to the boy’s dad, “Why don’t you take your son to a good doctor?” The old man replied, “Yes, I did. We are just coming from the hospital, my son was blind from his birth, he just got his vision today”.

The young couple were shocked into silence and felt bad by their heart. They repented and told the old man to care off him.

Moral:

Don’t judge a person easily and never ever ridicule a person before you truly know about them. The truth might surprise you.

THE RIDDLE

Ram Chand received a call from a hospital. A voice spoke, “your sister is in the last stage of cancer, she wanted to meet you “. Hearing this he rushed to see his sister. He had to pass by a forest. On his way he was stopped by a witch abruptly. The witch said “ah you are my feast today “. Ram Chand got scared and begged her to leave him. The witch thought for a while and said “If I want to leave you answer my riddle”. Ram Chand got ready to answer to the witch’s riddle. The witch asked “a person born in 1988 died in 1988 his age was 22. How?”.

Ram Chand was not able to find the answer and had fallen into the clutches of the witch. The witch asked his last wish. He said “I wanted to see my sister who is in her deathbed. The witch agreed for what he said and told him to come within an hour. He went to the hospital, enquired the reception and found that her sister was in room number 1988. As he was about to reach the room the nurse stopped him and said sorry your sister is no more.

This shouldn’t have happened to a 22 years woman. Ram Chand burst out in tears and also found the answer of the riddle. Now he went to the witch and said “you cannot kill me I have found the answer for the riddle”. It might be a person who was born in the year 1988 and might have died in the bed number 1988 at the age of 22. The witch got stunned and left him alive.
